

Vatsun Thirapatarapong
Country Manager
AWS (Thailand)

Vatsun Thirapatarapong is the Country Manager at AWS (Thailand) and brings more than 30 years of experience in the digital and ICT industries across sales management, channel & operations, business & strategy planning, as well as business development.

His prior experience was in engineering and consulting positions at Schlumberger Overseas S.A., Esso Standard Thailand, and IBM Thailand; and country management positions at Hewlett-Packard (Thailand) and Cisco Systems (Thailand and Indochina). He also had participated in the NBTC sub-committee to shape the initial VoIP (Voice over Internet Protocol) landscape for the country, as well as actively involved in the consulting roles for various public and private digital transformation projects in Public Sector, Telecom, financial and service industries. He is now leading the teams at AWS Thailand as Country Manager, which he sets the strategic direction for the company in the development of cloud business in the country. Vatsun also previously served as the Advisor to National Commission for Digital Economy and Society, chaired by Deputy Prime Minister.

Vatsun has the Bachelor's degree in Electrical Engineering, MBA in Marketing and MIS, and Certificate of Digital Transformation from MIT Sloan Management.